TRAMPS AND MILLIONAIRES.

There are 36,000 millionaires in the United States and 3,386,000 tramps. Fifty years ago millionaires were scarce and so were tramps. At that time strikes were not heard of and everyone had a vote of some value. At the present time the vast army of mendicants have little voting power. Their constant and forced change of residence prevents them voting, and the result is that nine tramps out of ten care nothing for the government of the country and the list is swelling daily. What will eventually be the result, with such increase of progress and poverty. it must certainly pauperize some class, some element, some sections, or some individual, for one man to become possessor of a million dollars.

It is no argument to say that many new channels are being opened to both men and women, because most of them are governed by cerporations and syndicates, who will operate with foriegn laborers, at starvation wages, and the Americans will be forced to the wall.

What wonder is it that thousands, in a country of 65,000,000, become tramps, criminals and prostitutes, on a great nation rapidly being turned into a receptacle for the sewerage of Europe.

A strike of any importance throws several thousand working men into an idle crowd inside of twelve hours and they must live from hand to mouth until it is settled one way or the other. It is a situation of uncertainty, and the laborers anxiously await the turning of the tide either for or against them.

If they lose, it only adds another regiment to the long lists of roving miners, mechanics, moulders, coa heavers, ship hands, telegraph operators etc., looking for something to

On one hand we plainly see the march of foreign lobor, trampling under foot the American citizen and the gates are still open.

On the other hand appears the grasping avaricious clutch of the capitalist squeezing the people and throwing out its feelers for more wealth.

Now look at the central picture of the working American. What can you see but fetters and poverty. On their faces is the mark of dissatisfaction with their surroundings. In the distance appears a picture of breaking ranks, and the evolution of the tramp, slowly walking away ELEGANT - CLUB - ROOMS with an occasional look of scorn at the millionaires and foreigners on either hand. At once this question comes to

Who shall control and maintain America? The people, the paupers, or the plutocrats. Let every free born American place his ballot where it will do his fellow man some good; in the hands of a government operating on a plan for the people, with railroads, telegraph lines and necessities of life within the reach of all classes. Nothing but unity will erase the wrongs and assist in bringing the election of a President up to one standard, that of electing him by popular vote, doing away with individuals as the owners of necessities and an indefinite closing down of the

There will then be less millionaires and less tramps in the U.S.

Prcf. S. W. Burnham formerly of the Lick observatory has just done what should have been done some months ago, given the public an idea of what an astromomical fraud Prof. E. S. Holden is. Mr. Burnhan, an astronomer of fame resigned from the institution because Holden's position has been marked by a most decided system of egotism, seldshness and bad executive management.
